

Selectmen Ask Elevated For Better Transportation

Arlington's Auto Toll of Death and Injuries

Eight people were killed by automobiles in Arlington in 1928. One hundred and two pedestrians were struck by automobiles and injured, and one hundred and four people were hurt by autos coming together. Other automobile mishaps of the year included nine crashes into poles, five collisions with motorcycles, four autos into bicycles; three into buildings, two into electric cars, two into sleds, one into a chain fence, and one into a tree. In these accidents people were hurt, more or less badly.

These figures mean that in the past year more people were killed, more injured and there were more automobile accidents in Arlington than ever before. There are several reasons, says Chief of Police Thomas O. D. Urquhart, why 1928 was so bad from the point of view of traffic safety. One is that the town has so much through traffic. Practically all of the northbound traffic, together with that going into Boston from the north passes through one of the main arteries. Massachusetts avenue, of course, gets the greater proportion. Practically all of the fatal accidents occurred on the heavy traffic thoroughfares—Massachusetts avenue, Mystic street and Broadway—and out of town autoists were responsible for them. Pedestrians, says the Chief, are more careless than they used to be. They are particularly careless in crossing streets. If there is a traffic officer only a short distance away they won't bother to go to the crossing where he is regulating the traffic, but cross wherever they happen to be.

Danger of accidents will be decreased, Chief Urquhart hopes, when the signs are put up designating Massachusetts avenue, Broadway, Mystic and Pleasant streets, as

Complaints of Citizens Actuate Letter to Trustees

The Arlington Board of Selectmen have this week written to the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway, asking for better transportation facilities, the need of which has become imperative because of the growth of the town. In an interview, Chairman Gott has made it apparent that the townspeople also should write to the Elevated, demanding better service as it is only through co-operation that it will be secured. The Advocate is glad that the Selectmen are aware of the situation as is shown in the following letter:

January 8, 1929

Gentlemen:

We believe that the Town of Arlington is one of the most rapidly growing municipalities served by the Boston Elevated Railway. In keeping with the growth of the town and its general development increased facilities for the education of our school population have been provided. Large sums have been expended for the construction and maintenance of our highways, and increased police and fire protection have been enjoyed. Many civic betterments have been in-

Rotary Club Holds Banquet and Guest Night

The members of the Arlington Rotary Club, visiting presidents and guests from Lexington enjoyed a sumptuous repast at their evening meeting held at the Middlesex Sportsman's Club House on Wednesday evening. The dinner was immediately followed by a baritone solo, rendered by Kenneth McLeod, the well known singer. The applause by the audience was persistent, and Mr. McLeod responded with another verse. An intimate touch to the proceedings occurred when president William V. Taintor in the chair called upon the Lexington guests to rise. Mr. Taintor previously lived in Lexington, and was able to call and introduce to the others, eight of the ten visitors by their full names.

The first speaker of the evening was Mr. William Davis of Cambridge, one of the founders of the local organization. His address was a complete dissertation on the founding and principles of Rotary. He stated that Rotary exemplifies and puts into actual practice the Golden Rule. No one could be a real Rotarian who did not put "Service Before Self."

Rev. John Nicol Mark is eloquent. The next speaker introduced by the chairman was the Rev. Mark, who spoke inspiringly of Rotary, likening it to a compass. He impressed upon his audience that we are all in need of a magnetic needle to guide the great sea of humanity. Then he followed with quotations from Henry Van Dyke, the first exhortation being "think without confusion clearly," this a man must do to live truly. The second point in the compass, again

PUT SEWER EXTENSION ON PLEASANT STREET

The lower end of Pleasant street is dug up now. The Board of Public Works is putting in a sewer extension which will extend almost to the Belmont line. This will take care of the new development in that section, for which sewer connection will soon be needed.

D. D. S. G. K. FRANCIS DeCELLES GUEST OF ARLINGTON K. OF C.

Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus, held a very interesting meeting Tuesday evening, in K. of C. hall on Mystic street. D. D. S. G. K. Francis DeCelles was a guest of the evening, and gave a talk on the coming K. of C. athletic meet in Boston Garden tomorrow evening. A section of the garden has been reserved for Arlington residents who might wish to go. The tickets are in charge of James J. Golden, Jr., Grand Knight of the local council.

A challenge from the bowling team of Roxbury Council for a series of matches was received and accepted. The dates are not as yet fixed. A debating team is to be picked from members of the council, and tryouts by means of inter-council debates, will be made at once, under the direction of William D. Power. The local council is to try for the state silver cup offered in this line, and there is plenty of material here for a good debating team.

MRS. JAMES A. BAILEY GIVES ARLINGTON CIRCLE GLIMPSE OF HER EUROPEAN TRIP

The monthly meeting of the Arlington Circle of the Florence Crittenton League was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. D. Elwell, 94 Pleasant street. The unusually large attendance showed that the speaker announced, Mrs. James A. Bailey, one of the circle, was the drawing card, and well she might be, for Mrs. Bailey has a happy faculty of presenting any subject in an interesting way. At this time it was on a European trip, taken last summer, in company with Mr. Bailey, their daughter, Miss Ruberta, and a friend.

Previous to this, the president, Mrs. George Yale, presented Miss Edna Holmes, who gave a group of Dutch songs in costume, and later another group of old fashioned Southern songs, also appropriately costumed. She was accompanied by Mrs. C. Frederick Evans at the piano. She delighted her appreciative audience, for they were artistically presented.

Previous to her European talk, Mrs. Bailey read a printed report by Clarence R. Preston on the International Conference of Social Work and Child Welfare held in Paris last July from the seventh to the thirteenth inclusive. At that time the international conference voted to hold another meeting at Hague in 1932.

Mrs. Bailey read from her diary, kept during the trip, injecting into

Present Silver Watch To Committee Chairman

A silver watch was presented to Mr. W. I. Marsters, chairman of the Republican Town Committee, at a dinner at the Hotel Somerset last week Thursday evening. The watch was one of twenty-five given by Mr. Louis Liggett to the chairmen of committees of towns which had the greatest increase in registration in their groups, which comprised towns similar in size and condition. Arlington had gained 49%. The presentation was made by Mr. Prescott, chairman of the state committee. Mrs. Lowell Putnam presented a hundred dollars to the town which had made the greatest increase of any in the state. This was Quincy which gained 95%. The guests at the dinner were the members of the winning committees. Arlington was represented by Mr. Marsters, who sat at the head table, and by Mrs. Herbert W. Reed, Mrs. Charles Alden, Mrs. Edward L. Colby, Mr. Palmer Guarente, Mr. Robert Boyd, Mr. Harry I. Edwards, Mr. Allen MacIvers, Mr. Harold Estabrook and Mr. Roderick Peters. Among the recipients of the watches were three women.

ARLINGTON LODGE OF ELKS TO OBSERVE G. A. R. NIGHT

Arlington Lodge of Elks met in G. A. R. hall on Wednesday evening. On Feb. 13 the lodge will hold a G. A. R. night, when the G. A. R. men of the town will be guests and a special program will be presented. A stag party for members and friends will be held at an early date and also a whist and bridge for the charity fund. After the meeting, the members went in a body to Watertown to take part in the visitation of D. D. G. E. R. Edward Counihan at Watertown Lodge.

State Expert To Give Modern Merchandising Course Here

Local Merchants Will Attend.

A course in modern merchandising for the benefit of local business men will be given in Arlington by John J. Moran, advertising and merchandising expert. This class was secured by the Arlington Chamber of Commerce and will be given under the auspices of the Division of University Extension of the State Department of Education. Weekly meetings will be held in the new office of the Arlington Gas Light Company, 299 Broadway, beginning on Thursday, January 17, at 7.30 p. m. A moderate fee will be charged for membership.

This course is planned particularly to help merchants and their assistants in solving the problems of retail merchandising. How to meet the competition of the house to house canvass and the in-town store are topics which will be thoroughly discussed. Part of every class meeting will be devoted to a discussion period with a practical problem provided by the instructor.

The following is an outline of the course: advertising—newspapers, direct mail, package slips, street cars, programs; window displays—motion, color, illumination, forms; the customer—types and how to handle them; keeping the customer sold; the clerk—personality, knowledge of goods, relations with other employees; the sale—greeting the customer, showing the goods, closing the sale, recording the transaction; service—what is it; increasing service—rendering ability; credits and collections; chain stores.

John J. Moran, who will be the lecturer for the entire series, is a practical business man of long experience and a very successful teacher of state classes in this and related subjects. His instruction will be informal and friendly in character and will consist of a lecture at each meeting in addition to the discussion period already mentioned. It is hoped that a large membership will be enrolled. Everyone who is interested in this subject is invited to become a class member.

"The Aeroplane Girl" was presented in Robbins Memorial Town Hall last evening (Thursday) under the auspices of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association. It will be reported in our next issue.

Two Days For Mail From Arlington to Arlington

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, January 8th, at the Middlesex Sportsman's Clubhouse, one hundred and nine were present. A fine dinner was served by the caterer, everybody much appreciating the turkey. After the dinner the meeting was called to order by Pres. L. E. A. Smith. The extremely complete and interesting report, read by Secretary F. P. Hawkes, and the report by the Treasurer, Ralph Steyens, showing a balance of $788.88, were accepted.

Five new applications for membership were presented. They were: Ralph A. Armour, of 14 Churchill avenue; N. E. Manager for Nations Business; Edward B. Caulkins, 111 Jason street, Field Secretary for U. S. Chamber of Commerce; Daphne B. Hughes, 382 Mass. avenue, proprietor of Beauty Shop; Edna L. Mitchell, business address, 955 Mass. avenue, real estate dealer; Thomas F. Bowser, 27 Howard street, occupation, superintendent. In addition to these, eleven new members were elected:—Arlington Heights Fruit Co., Gahn & Erickson, Irving Herschkovitz, Paul H. Mossman, Roderick J. Peters, Morris Saltz, Mrs. H. B. Shapel, A. E. Swallow, David D. Thomas, Geo. Y. Wellington & Sons, (D. A. Wilcox) and P. R. Wolfson.

Representative Barker's Report. Mr. Elliott R. Barker, chairman of the Civic Division, elaborated upon the resolution drawn up by the committee, making it very clear that Arlington required greater facilities at the Post Office. As an illustration of this contention he stated that mail deposited in certain boxes at different times, located in Arlington, was transported to West Medford in the morning or in the afternoon to Back Bay by truck, then to the North Station, by train to West Medford and then by truck again to Arlington. If any of these trucks break down there is an additional delay and there is always unnecessary delay in the delivery of such mail to the Arlington recipients, amounting to many hours and sometimes days. For this and many other reasons, the motion presented by the governing board of the

TO THE VOTERS OF THE TOWN OF ARLINGTON

I wish to announce my candidacy for the unexpired term of William S. Fairchild on the Board of Public Works.

If elected, I will work for the best interests of Arlington and of all its people, as I have done during the ten years I have been a Town Meeting Member.

I wish to thank the 700 voters from every part of the town who signed my nomination papers before they were withdrawn from circulation, only 300 signatures being required.

DR. J. H. DIXON SPEAKS ON WORK IN INDIA

The Bradshaw Missionary Association held an especially interesting meeting on Monday afternoon in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational Church, presided over by its president, Mrs. Edward N. Lacey. The speaker was Dr. J. H. Dixon, an educator, who is located at Madura, India. Dr. Dixon told of the work that is being carried on successfully for the education of the children of India, and what had been done in the way of breaking up the caste system.

At the close of Mr. Dixon's talk, Mrs. Morton C. Bradley, assisted by Mrs. William E. Lufford and Mrs. Ernest A. Snow, served tea, sandwiches, nuts and candy.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS SCHOOL PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

The Massachusetts League of Women Voters, of which Mrs. True Worthy White, formerly of Arlington, is chairman, has announced the program for the eighth annual School of Foreign Affairs, which will be held at the Commander Hotel, Cambridge, January 22, 23 and 24. The school will discuss against a background of fact material presented by speakers from several European Nations and from China, the policy of the United States in relation to Disarmament, Foreign Trade and treaty relationships. The trend away from political liberalism will also be presented.

The program will be developed by a series of addresses and round table luncheon conferences, further supplemented by the short discussion periods following each address.

The program for each date, together with the hours, follow:—

Tuesday, Jan. 22—10:15 a. m., "Our World at the Close of a Decade", Charles Hodges; 11:15 a. m., "Observations on China", Arthur N. Holcombe; 12:15 p. m., "Should China Control Manchuria?", Yung Chi Hoe; 1:00 p. m., Luncheon Conference; 2:30 p. m., "Problems of the Pacific", William Hung; 3:30 p. m., "The Caribbean Policy of the United States", James P. Baxter, 3rd; 8:00 p. m., "Italy's Relation to World Politics and Economics", Gaetano Salvemini.

Wednesday, January 23—10:15 a. m., "What of Russia?", Vera Micheles; 11:15 a. m., "Mussolini as a Revolt against Liberalism", William L. Langer; 1:00 p. m., Luncheon Conference; 2:30 p. m., "New Hungary", Stephen Czako; 3:30 p. m., "Protection of American Business Abroad", Ernest H. Gruening; 8:00 p. m., "Disarmament—Obstacles, Results and Prospects", Senor Salvador De-Madariaga.

Thursday, January 24—10:15 a. m., "Greece, the Greeks and the Near East", Stephen P. Ladas; 11:15 a. m., "Foreign Trade", George B. Roorbach; 1:00 p. m., Luncheon Conference; 2:30 p. m., "European Headlines", Dorothy Thompson (Mrs. Sinclair Lewis); 4:00 P. M., "What of the Kellogg Pact", Raymond T. Rich.

The school is open to all who register for the full course and admissions may be secured for single sessions. Round table conferences will be closed to all except those who have been assigned to them.

LITTLE ROBERT MILLS DROWNS IN ALEWIFE BROOK

The icy waters of Alewife Brook claimed little Robert Mills, eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mills (nee Katharine Walsh) of 19 North Union street, on Saturday afternoon.

Robert, in company with his chum, Walter Gilbert, son of Mrs. Alice Gilbert, of 95 North Union street, went to Dilboy Field in Somerville, to skate. About three o'clock, Robert decided to return home, but left his companion at the field, which has been flooded for skating. This was the last seen of him alive. When the supper hour arrived and the lad had not returned, his parents started an inquiry. On finding that he had left the ice early, telephone messages were sent to the hospitals in the vicinity of Arlington, to ascertain if the boy had been brought there. Mrs. M. J. Regan of North Union street, assisted the distracted parents of the boy in an effort to locate him.

Arlington police department and Metropolitan Park police were notified, and both began a search, along Alewife Brook, as this was the direction the boy would travel to reach home. The Arlington police kept up their search until ten o'clock that night. By the aid of grappling irons, the body was discovered at one o'clock Sunday morning, by the Metropolitan police, under whose jurisdiction the brook comes. It is thought that instead of crossing the bridge at Alewife Brook, the boy attempted to go over the ice and fell through. No one being near, he perished. The body was recovered just back of Dilboy Field on the Arlington side of the brook.

The accident caused a consternation among his playmates, for Robert, who was a fifth grade pupil in Crosby School, was a favorite. He was a boy of unusually fine qualities, and his untimely death is to be regretted.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the home of his parents. Prayers were offered by Rev. Matthew Flaherty, pastor of St. Agnes church. The flowers were very beautiful. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery. Besides his parents, the boy leaves four brothers and two sisters.

FREE PUBLIC LECTURES AT PARK AVENUE CHURCH

A series of free public lectures are to be given in Park Avenue Congregational Church, beginning next Sunday, January 13th, at 7:30 p. m. The lecturer will be Rev. A. G. Lyon. His subject, "Mental Attitude Counts Ninety Percent". The dates and subjects of the remaining lectures follow:—Jan. 20, "Overcoming Our Hindrances"; Jan. 27, "The Glands of Internal Secretions and the Emotions"; Feb. 3, "The Power of Psychic Vibrations"; Feb. 10, "The Laws of Attention"; Feb. 17, "Keeping Fit"; Feb. 24, "Practical Analysis of Character". Questions will be answered.

REV. JAMES YEAMES EIGHTY-SIX YEARS OLD JANUARY 7th

Rev. James Yeames reached the eighty-sixth anniversary of his birth on Monday, January 7th. There was no special observance made of the day, although long-time friends remembered it with cards and other greetings and messages, especially those in St. John's Episcopal church of this town, where he was rector for a number of years. He had previously had charge of churches in South Boston and Jamaica Plain, and for some years was on the staff of Emmanuel Church, in Boston. Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks, rector.

Mr. Yeames was born in England, Jan. 7, 1843, and was married in Folkestone, Aug. 20, 1868. He came to this country about 45 years ago.

Last August Mr. and Mrs. Yeames, who reside at 25 Wellington street, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. Of an original family of eight children, six are living: Miss Amy M. Yeames, who resides with her parents; George H. Yeames of Franklin; Prof. Herbert H. Yeames of Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y.; Mrs. F. H. Bartlett, of Yonkers, N. Y.; and Harold A. and Arthur O. Yeames, both of Arlington. There are 14 grandchildren.

Mr. Yeames has lived in Arlington more than 30 years.

Fifty Years Ago This Week
Entertainment—The entertainment at the Unitarian church last Wednesday evening was exceptionally enjoyable. The part of the program comprised an old folks concert, the singers being with three exceptions, members of the church choir. Mr. S. P. Prentiss filled the position of director with his usual grace and skill. Mr. C. S. Fessenden presided at the new Miller piano, and was skillfully supported in his accompaniment by an orchestra consisting of violin, cello and piano played by Messrs. Green, Fessenden, Hill and Master Proctor. Miss Prentiss' solo in "Shake the Cymbal" was finely executed, and Mr. E. Delmont Locke's rendering of the solo in the "Ten Parts" song was full of fun. Messrs. Bailey, Prentiss, and Colley next came forward with a laughable little act. At this stage Mr. H. H. Homer announced the next entertainment and that the committee would consist of Dr. Hodgdon and wife, and Judge Parmenter and wife.

Last Friday for the first time since we have published this paper, the snow plow made its appearance on the Middlesex Central Branch early in the morning. This is another indication that the management realize the importance of its branch roads and endeavor to secure their comfort and convenience.

Dance—The "Sociable in Bethel Lodge room in Bank Building last Wednesday evening, was better attended than most have been and was all the more enjoyable. The Dunbar Brothers furnished the music and were assisted by the "Professor", on the bass viol. The solo executed by the latter, for our special edification and amusement, was appreciated. Once a month, should be enough for him, we think.

The Misses Hardy have issued cards for an at home at their residence, 54 Lake street, Arlington, on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, January 23rd, to meet Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hardy, who were recently married and make their home at the Hardy residence.

The directors' room at 1st National Bank is adorned with a bunch of Florida oranges on the stem and an equally attractive bunch of grape fruit. Both are charming in color and perfect in form. They came from President E. Nelson Blake to director Hornblower.

Miss Carolyn Brackett was among the guests at a dinner party given at Newton to Miss Elizabeth Lane, an aunt of Mrs. Alice Stone Blackwell, in honor of her 55th birthday. Miss Lane makes this trip from New York to Boston each year and during her stay here, which usually includes only the summer months, spends the pleasant days in taking the many delightful trolley rides that are to be had in and about the suburbs of Boston.

One of the photographers on one of the great Boston dailies who was taking pictures of the sleighing on Boston's famous driveway, snapped his camera just as Town Treasurer Miller's pair of white horses and brand new double seated sleigh stood in the foreground.

All coasting on the public streets and sidewalks in the town has been prohibited by the Selectmen, and any person violating the rule will be fined not less than one dollar and not more than five dollars.

Last Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Holmes were at home to a few friends at their apartment in Cambridge. They were invited to meet Miss Edith Capin of Dorchester, the fiancée of Mr. Charles G. Holmes, the eldest son of the family.

Members of Chamber of Commerce to Study Merchandising

Immediately following a delectable supper at the Middlesex Sportsman's Association Club House Thursday, the 3rd, Mr. Dooley of the State Board of Education, addressed the Commercial Division of the Chamber of Commerce on "University Extension Courses". He spoke at great length on the advantages of such study and recommended highly a course on merchandising for the merchants of Arlington. He stated that the number of students in some cases exceeded the enrollment at Harvard.

"The great future of storekeepers for the extension of trade lies in education," he said, "rather than through closer buying or reducing costs." "All has been done that can be done in reducing manufacturing costs, and merchants have learned how to buy but much can be done in handling the customer so as to secure more trade." A part of this course provides training in writing advertising for the newspapers. Illustrations were given of larger returns secured through better advertising copy.

It was voted to engage this course at a cost of $200.00, provided the required minimum number of forty members were enlisted for the course of lectures. The classes will be conducted at the new, spacious quarters of the Arlington Gas Light Co.; the Chamber accepting with alacrity Mr. Patterson's kind offer of the use of the company's offices.

A propitious start was made for the launching of the mid-winter clearance sale through the medium of a large distribution of a special bulletin to the houses of Arlington and neighboring towns, similar to the plan employed in December, when for four successive weeks, twenty-two thousand, three hundred supplements to the Arlington Advocate were distributed. This will be done to announce the sale which will take place the first part of February.

The report of the credit bureau, presented by Maurice Hatch, which recommended a clearing house for the purpose of furnishing credit data, was tabled, to be taken up at a later meeting.

FIRE DRILL CONDUCTED ON HOSPITAL HULL

If there has ever been any doubt as to the safety of the patients at Symmes Arlington Hospital, in case of fire, it may be dispelled for after the demonstration, with a fire drill, held Tuesday morning at eight o'clock at Symmes Arlington Hospital by the nurses, it was made apparent that they had been apt pupils under the skilful teaching of Chief Daniel B. Tierney of Arlington Fire Department, and Miss Nora Brown, superintendent of the hospital. As far as it is known, this is the only hospital that has ever conducted a fire drill, but it proved so satisfactory that no doubt they will be held at least twice a month.

Patients had been informed of the drill, so no ill effects resulted. In fact they entered into it with quite the zest of a pleasant diversion.

Strong handles had been sewed to the side of each mattress, so that when the gong sounded, nurses hurried from the Nurses' home and took their places, two on either side of a patient's mattress. The hour for the drill was such that both the night and day nurses could participate in it. There were forty who participated.

Chief Tierney brought with him Deputy Chief George W. Corbett, Lieut. Irving Gay, Lieut. Loren McEwen and John J. Tierney, to act as instructors throughout the building to the nurses in the use of the fire extinguishers and the hose. The hospital is like all others, equipped with the sprinkler system, also ladders and hose line.

For the purpose of ascertaining how long it would take to get an emergency call through from the hospital to Central Fire Station, Chief Tierney stepped to the telephone and sent in a call. In seventeen seconds he was in communication with the Central Fire Headquarters.

The signal system at the hospital is now so arranged that in case the bell is sounded in the main building, a bell also rings in the Nurses' home, that brings all the nurses to the main building.

Dry Cleaning Kills Germs

The New York Board of Health has publicly gone on record that such disease germs as influenza, scarlet fever, colds, bronchitis, pneumonia, tuberculosis, diphtheria, measles and typhus fever are killed by proper dry cleaning methods.

Betty Bayburn guarantees that the Bayburn Process completely sterilizes each garment cleaned. Every garment is totally immersed and washed in Stoddard Solvent and rinsed until no germ could possibly survive.

Dry Cleaning Saves Doctors' Bills

It is cheaper and wiser to send us your suit, dress, or coat to-day and be sure that it is hygienically clean, than to run the risks, unaided, of the present influenza and scarlet fever epidemic!

PLANS MADE FOR NURSING ASSOCIATION DRIVE

Plans for the annual drive of the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association, which will be held the latter part of April, were made at a meeting of the executive committee held Tuesday, January 8th, 1929. Roger W. Homer was chosen chairman and Edward A. Geary as executive secretary.

This is the twenty-fifth year of the Association's existence and it is intended to celebrate the quarter century mark by the most extensive and intensive drive the organization has made. Before it is over it is intended that every family in Arlington shall be acquainted with the purpose of the association and with the work it has done in the past.

During the drive the headquarters at 707 Mass. avenue will be open every evening.

HARVARD FRESHMEN TOO STRONG FOR A. H. S. SEXTET

The High School ice hockey sextet tackled the Harvard Freshman team on Wednesday afternoon at Cambridge, but went down to a 2 to 0 defeat. Arlington has played three games recently, and lost each one by a score of 2 to 0. Harvard scored early in the first period in a well directed shot, which just grazed Manning's shin guards, who played a great game for Arlington. He was bombarded with shots from the Harvard players. In the third period, Harvard once more tallied. The Arlington boys got the puck into the Harvard territory many times, but their shots were warded off by the fast backfield of Harvard.

The summary:
HARVARD FRESHMEN—Stubbs, rw; Wood, c; Crosby, rw; Palmer, rd; Cunningham, ld; Draper, g; Lincoln, Foster, Martin, Mays, Sprague, Gleason, Bottomley, spares.

ARLINGTON HIGH—Lax, lw; Duffey, c; Rice, rw; Clark, ld; Forbes, rd; Manning, g; Winn, O'Neill, Abbott, spares.

Score, Harvard Freshmen 2, Goals made by Crosby, Wood, Referee, Bratt. Time, three 12-m periods.

Deaths

MARY O. ROLLINS

Mary O. Rollins, widow of the late Captain Henry B. Rollins of Arlington, passed away suddenly, on January 8th, at the home of her brother, Mr. Flitner, of Billerica. Mrs. Rollins, whose husband died about a year ago at the family home, 243 Mystic street, had been identified with the Orthodox Congregational church for a long period of years. Her home on Mystic street was also the center of many a neighborly gathering. After the death of Capt. Rollins, his widow went to reside with her brother in Billerica, together with a sister, some six months ago. The funeral was held Thursday at 1:30 from her late home on Boston avenue. The interment was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

stituted by those interested in the proper government and development of this town.

There is, however, one important and pressing need which the Town faces daily, and that is adequate transportation facilities. This matter of increased facilities has been taken up with your General Manager, Edward Dana, at various times, and temporary relief has, in most cases, been given. The present condition of affairs is serious and is of sufficient importance for the Board of Selectmen to bring the matter as forcibly as possible to your attention. A large number of complaints from our citizens and first-hand knowledge of the conditions lead us to say that the crowded condition of elevated cars and trains during the rush hours is intolerable. Apparently all thought of the comfort and convenience of passengers is disregarded. The humiliation and personal discomfort suffered by the women and children riding on the cars is such that conditions approach absolute indecency, and should be allowed to continue no longer.

During the busy hours we believe that one-man cars should not be allowed to run, or trailer cars with a crew of only two men be used. About two years ago the distances between pole stops were increased, so that faster time should be made.

Now with one man operating the cars, opening and closing doors, as well as making change for passengers, the service has lost the benefit of the increased distances between stops, and has thereby been slowed up.

Will you be kind enough to advise us what you propose to do in the immediate future to alleviate conditions now existing and to offer to the residents of the town of Arlington reasonable and adequate transportation service.

Very truly yours,

(Signed)

HOLLIS M. GOTT.

LUKE A. MANNING.

ARTHUR P. WYMAN.

FATHER TIME'S BAIRNS

Twelve children fill the household of the year.

And Father Time, though he so grave appears,

Still wears a merry heart—for aye he hears The music of their laughter in his ear.

First, there's the dusty first born of the fold,

January—full of resolves to be A paragon of poise—likewise to see His kin by his stern edicts are controlled.

But soon light hearted February slips The leash, and dancing as though full of wit, Cries, who, oh, who will be my valentine? And March, madly's skirts rudely out-whips.

Then there's she of such easy tears—April—

Fond nurturer of infant buds that soon will bloom garland her sisters, May and June—

Those handsome girls who always man-kind thrill.

Two sturdy sons of toil come next: Friend, meet

July and August—boys who with a jug Of ancient apple juice can cut and lug.

More hay than winter stanchion'd kine can eat.

September boasts the dignity of Toll; It is October and November though Who ladders fill with wholesome overflow.

While Man thanks God for wealth of sun and soil.

And last there's carol singing December: That darling of the house, whose jollity Along with "Mother" and "Santa" will be Remembered so long as men remember.

REPERTORY THEATRE

At the Repertory Theatre of Boston, Sir James Barrie's exquisitely romantic play, "Mary Rose", continues for a second week. In "Mary Rose" Barrie's imagination has its most whimsical and charming scope. His story combines in a most pleasing fashion all those qualities for which he is most admired by his followers: the fantasy of "Peter Pan", the quaint imaginings of "A Kiss for Cinderella", the exquisite love story of "The Little Minister", the tender humor of "What Every Woman Knows", and the gripping interest and appeal of "Dear Brutus". In this production at The Repertory Theatre, staged and directed by Henry Jewett, the title role of Mary Rose is being played by Edith Barrett, Milton Owen has the dual role of Simon and Harry, father and son, and for the remainder Olga Birkbeck is cast as Mrs. Otery, Thomas Shearer as Mr. Morland, Katharine Warren as Mrs. Morland, Robert Noble as Rev. George Amy, and Arthur Sircom as Cameron.

ALUMNI-HIGH SCHOOL HOCKEY GAME PLAYED

Through a misunderstanding, it was announced that the Arlington Alumni-High School ice hockey game scheduled for New Year's day was not played. This came about by the captain not being aware of the game. However, this was not to be wondered at, for the game was rather an im-prompt affair. On account of the weather conditions, many of those who had expected to stage a game thought that it had better be called off, but finally it was decided to try and see if a game could not be pulled off.

The goals were set up, and the boys went at it. Although the Alumni was augmented by a number of college stars, past and present, and had a big reserve, they made little showing against the High School team. The official score given out was two to one in favor of the High school. The boys feel that they were robbed of one more goal.

Had the Advocate reporter known that there was a game, the score would have been printed in last week's edition.

The members of the Girl Scout Council are to have the pleasure of hearing Miss May Hobbs of England speak on January 16th, at the home of Mrs. James A. Bailey, at three o'clock.

Newton Ice Hockey Team Wins From "Spy Ponders"

Arlington High ice hockey team played its opening game in the Greater Boston Interscholastic League series, Thursday afternoon, January third, taking on the Newton High School team. The game was scheduled at Arlington, but for lack of ice the team went to Newton to play the game. Newton was picked as a winner from the fact that it has a veteran team of fine players, while the Arlington boys were to play their first real big game.

Newton had looked for an easy win, but they got a real surprise when the "Spy Ponders", as the Arlington High teams are known, got started. They played a good passing game. Newton, although the aggressor, did not make their shots count all the time. Capt. Sherman Forbes of Arlington, stopped many a hard driven puck, that was labeled for a tally. Capt. Daniel O. Harrington of the Newton team had no chance in keeping the puck out of his own net, and it was only by his wonderful playing that he succeeded. Simonds played well at Arlington's goal, although twice the puck eluded him to the advantage of Newton. The game ended two to nothing for the Garden City players.

The summary: NEWTON H. S.—Rally, Fletcher, rw; Brown, Wilkie, c; Bell, Schipper, lw; Andrews, Gilligan, rd; Gashner, ld; Harrington, g. ARLINGTON H. S.—Lax, Rice, Duffy, lw; McCarthy, Abbott, c; Thomas, rw; Forbes, ld; Clark, rd; Simonds, g. Score, Newton 2. Goals made by Fletcher, Schipper. Referee, Noonan. Time, three 12m periods.

M. S. A. HOCKEY TEAM LOSTS TO MELROSE COLLEGIANS

The Mystic Valley Hockey League opened on Ell Pond in Melrose Friday evening, January 4th, with two very good hockey games, before about 200 spectators. In the first game, the Melrose Collegians defeated the Middlesex Sportsman's Association of this town by a score of 4-1. The local team showed a lack of team play and a good passing game, which will, no doubt, improve as the season gets older.

In the second game, the Stoneham Hockey Club outplayed the Wakefield Hockey Club by the same score, and what was said of Arlington could be repeated for Wakefield.

Three games were played this week on the Ell Pond Rink in Melrose.

A. H. S. Basketball Team Trims Framingham Quintet

The High School basketball team played its first interscholastic game on last Friday evening in the High School gymnasium, taking on the crack Framingham High team before a large gallery of fans. The flashy work of the Arlington boys completely upset the visitors, and at no time did they give the home boys any uneasiness. Two baskets from the floor were all that Framingham was able to score. Five points were made from free shots after fouls had been committed. Framingham was unsuccessful in covering the Arlington men.

Hardly had the ball been thrown in the air for the start of the play than Ross flashed down the court and tallied a basket for Arlington. Friery on the very next play was away and under the basket for another tally. "Red" Beasley tallied a point from a foul and threw one basket from the floor, bringing the score in the opening period up to seven in favor of Arlington. All this time the Arlington basket was not in danger once.

In the second period, personal fouls were called often, owing to the fast playing, making some of the fouls unavoidable. In this period George Lowder went in for Ross at the opening of the period, and toward the close of the period, Blackman went in for Beasley. At the outset of the quarter, Framingham tallied a point from a foul shot. Capt. "Lefty" Lowder rushed in a pretty basket in a fast scrimmage in front of the Framingham basket, and his brother George shot another perfect basket. Beasley, not to be outdone, shot in another basket. Framingham made its first basket of the game here, a pretty shot being made by Clark, from well out on the floor. Evidently George Lowder got stirred up over this, for he tallied two baskets in succession, and because he was roughed when throwing the second basket, he was given two free shots, and he made both of them count, making six points in about as many seconds. Framingham got a free shot owing to a foul, and tallied. Just as the period was coming to a close, Beasley shot another basket, and Driscoll tallied another, making the score at the end of this period, Arlington 23, Framingham 4.

The fans saw the Arlington team back in the same line-up as in the opening period, and Framingham, augmented by some new players. Framingham opened up with a tally of one point from a foul. Driscoll got a free shot from foul, and shortly after he caged a basket. Framingham again got a free shot, owing to a foul, and they made it count, but the tallies were coming in too slow to amount to anything. In this period, Ross tallied two baskets, and Capt. Lowder did the same; Driscoll caged the ball on a foul shot at the close of the period, bringing the score up to 35 for Arlington, and 6 for the visitors.

In the fourth period, Framingham got its only other basket, Curran making a pretty shot from the side of the court. They also shot a basket from a foul, and brought their score up to nine.

During this last period, there was some pretty passing work on the part of the local boys. Beasley scored a basket; Friery scored two, and a point from foul; Capt. Lowder got one basket; George Lowder got a point from foul and a basket, and Driscoll scored from a shot on a foul. Thus the game ended, 47 to 9 in favor of the Arlington boys, a wonderful score for the opening of the season.

In the last period, the scorer announced that four penalties had been chalked up against Beasley and Driscoll, and they had to leave the game as per rules of the game. The game then went on with four men playing on the Arlington team, against five on the Framingham team, until the end of the game.

During the evening there was another snappy game, when the A. H. S. second team defeated the Framingham second team, 23 to 9. Framingham scored only two points in the last half, while Arlington made 12 points.

Arington High Defeats Malden Basketball Team

In one of the hardest fought basketball games thus far this season, Arlington High defeated Malden High Tuesday afternoon in the High school gymnasium, by a score of 25 to 10. It was well for Arlington that they piled up the score in the opening half, because Malden solved their play during the second half, and playing a man to man game, covered the Arlington boys so well that Arlington was held without making a basket from the floor during the entire period.

The Arlington boys went right out after the game in the opening session, and so fast was their play that Malden was taken unawares. Only two baskets from the floor were tallied during the first period, these being made by Capt. Bill Lowder and Bob Friery. Foul shots were tallied by Capt. Lowder, three; Friery, one, and George Lowder, one. During this session Malden made a lone tally of one basket from a foul shot.

The second period showed the Arlington boys at their best, and playing the fastest session of the entire game. In this period Arlington ran its score up fast, and it was well they did. Right at the start, Beasley, in one of the finest plays of the game, got the ball under the Malden basket and scored a basket from the floor. Ross came along on the very next play and tallied another. Friery got a free shot from a foul, and Capt. Bill Lowder put the ball in the next three times for as many tallies. Blackman got a free shot from a foul Blackman made a long shot and tallied, thus bringing the score up to 22 for Arlington. Malden got a free shot from a foul and tallied, bringing their score up to two.

In the third period, Arlington did not score a basket from the floor, the only tallies made being on foul shots by the Lowder brothers. During this session Malden scored its first baskets from the floor, netting two, and bringing their score up to six, against 24 for Arlington.

The last period showed Malden covering Arlington so well that it was well nigh impossible for the Arlington boys to make a shot. During this session, Arlington scored but one point. Blackman caging from a foul shot. During the session, Malden got one basket from the floor and shot two fouls, bringing their score up to 10, as against 25 for Arlington. This last session, while played hard, was clean, both teams playing a good sportsmanlike game all the way through.

The red hot game came between the second teams of the two schools, and this was tied so tight at the close of the allotted time that three minutes were allowed for an overtime period. The first half ended 10 to 10, and the game ended 19 to 19. It was decided to play the extra period in order to decide a winner. Just in the last minute, Malden second got a free shot on a foul and made it tally. This was the needed point, and the session ended Malden 20, Arlington second, 19.

75-yard run by a California player in the wrong direction, the fans were given a thrill by seeing one of the Arlington second string players grab the ball from one of his own team mates, and attempt to put it into his own basket. Why he did not succeed is a mystery, for he had plenty of room, the Framingham players naturally did not attempt to stop him, while his own team mates were too dumbfounded to interfere until one player finally knocked the ball off to one side, thus saving the player the chagrin of scoring two points for the opposing side.

From the side lines it looks as if Arlington would be up with those eligible for the Tech games this spring. Beasley will be out of the playing this week. He has reached the age limit for High school athletics. He will be greatly missed.

The Lowder brothers—"Lefty" and George—are a great working team, and they seem to be all over the floor.

Ross, Friery, Driscoll and Blackman, the latter, utility man, are making a good showing.

"Jim" Le Cain of Tufts officiated at the game. There are few any better than Jimmie in this line.

It was a surprise to the fans to see "Dykes" Driscoll walk out of the game with four personal fouls chalked up against him. He had an off night.

Over to Medford this (Friday) evening for a game with Medford High. There is nothing like a lot of rooters with the team to make the boys play well. Go over to Medford with them and help them win.

Melrose High Wins Another Game from Arlington

The Melrose High ice hockey team gave Arlington High team a 2 to 0 beating in a game played at Melrose on Tuesday afternoon. The experienced sextet of Melrose, however, gave great praise to the inexperienced team of Arlington, which played a wonderful game against this season's team. Melrose got their first point in the opening period, when Keough

The following names appear on the honor roll for the second marking period:

CANDY FOR SUNDAY

In the good old days when the Sunday buggy-ride was a national institution a young man made a real impression when he arrived with a box of "store" candy under his arm. More often "sis" or mother or even dad spent an hour in the kitchen making fudge or taffy—and it was good candy usually. Nowadays when the boy friend dashes up to the curb in his sport roadster with a box of Blake's candy it is a real treat—for it is good candy—ALWAYS.

through ways. They have been so designated by the State Board of Public Works. A small consignment of poles for the markers has arrived and by the end of the week they will be in place on Broadway and on Mystic and Pleasant streets. This will mean that all automobiles coming into these thoroughfares from side streets must stop before entering. Before the streets were made through ways a car entering from the right had the right of way and the fact that drivers stood on their legal rights caused frequent accidents.

The automatic signals which were installed during the year at Mystic street and the Summer street Boulevard and at Park and Massachusetts avenues are doing wonderful work. Says the chief, now that people realize they are there. Of course, some motorists disregard the signs but they are apt to be haled into court by the policemen who are occasionally stationed near the lights to catch such offenders. These signs not only prevent accidents but they will save the town about fifteen hundred dollars a year.

During the year the police have brought complaints against 2216 offenders, and all but seventy-three were found guilty. This the chief regards as a fair batting average. The violations were of sixty-nine different laws. This is counting all automobile laws as one. About one thousand of these were of one or more of the various automobile rules, several of them for drunken driving.

Except for the automobile accidents the year in the Arlington police department was about normal. There was a small number of house breaks and only one robbery.

munizing doses of toxin anti-toxin. In fact since the town began holding the Schick test and the immunization clinics, no one who was given the toxin anti-toxin has had the disease. There was one case of typhoid—contracted outside of the town. In this connection it is interesting to note that in 1888 when the population of the town was 5246 there were eleven cases—more than of any other contagious disease. Nowadays, modern sanitation makes typhoid exceedingly rare. The source of the few cases is practically always found either in a contaminated milk supply or in the water drunk by people in the country on an outing.

Eleven people were given the Pasteur treatment for rabid dog bites. Beside seven of these Mr. Bradley had placed question marks. They were not bitten but had taken the treatment because they had handled rabid dogs and feared infection through scratches. Other contagious diseases included in the year's total, were chickenpox, 166; German measles, 20; mumps, 57; pneumonia, 30; scarlet fever, 119; whooping cough, 240, and anterior poliomyelitis, 4.

During December, 86 cases of chickenpox were reported; diphtheria, 2; rabid dog bite, 2; German measles, 2; measles, 4; mumps, 5; pneumonia, 6; scarlet fever, 9, and whooping cough, 14.

MRS. JAMES A. BAILEY GIVES ARLINGTON CIRCLE GLIMPSES OF HER EUROPEAN TRIP

her recital, however, many interesting and pleasing incidents. The fact that Mrs. George A. G. Wood of 119 Hillside avenue was a passenger on the same steamer with Mrs. Bailey, was referred to by her at the beginning of her talk. The diversions afforded the passengers on an ocean liner were noted, but it was what occupied Mrs. Bailey after leaving the ship that held the attention of her audience for an hour.

Mrs. Bailey travelled with a lady friend before being joined by Mr. Bailey and daughter, Ruberta, and the first part of her talk was experienced on a motor trip through England, Chester and Shrewsbury were first visited. Their experiences, especially in the Raven Hotel, where a "little brown jug" filled with hot water was discovered in the cold bed, placed there as a means for keeping warm, was well told by Mrs. Bailey. A visit to one of the castles, and the trip to Tintern Abbey, the interesting and lovely hedge roads, the thatched cottages, which seem to be going out of fashion, much to the regret of the appreciative tourists, was pleasantly referred to. In fact as Mrs. Bailey unfolded her story of travel through historic villages and well travelled sections of the country through which she passed, it awakened in the minds of many of her listeners, who had not had a similar experience, a desire to find for themselves those places, and for those who like Mrs. Bailey, had passed over the ground, a refreshing of pleasant memories.

It is impossible to enumerate all the places visited by the speaker at this time, but Mrs. Bailey's recital of her experience in an airplane in company with her daughter, was especially enjoyed. The latter, of course, was enthusiastic for the "thrill." How the plane was obliged to come down because of lack of gasoline and with what trepidation Mrs. Bailey finally consented to proceed in the air when she was informed by her daughter that this was the only means of travel by which she could reach Paris from London, was an amusing incident as told by Mrs. Bailey. The meeting of Cyrus E. Dallin after Mrs. Bailey had reached terra firma, proved once again how small the world is, for there he was, traveling unbeknownst to Mrs. Bailey, but meeting as naturally as one does on our Arlington streets. He had just down and "loved it," as he said.

London and Paris were in Mrs. Bailey's itinerary, but it was the visit to the war devastated country, in company with Mr. Bailey, that made a deep impression on the travellers, especially the tablet on which was inscribed these words: "Here the 11th of November, 1918, succumbed the criminal pride of the German Empire, vanquished by the free nations which it tried to enslave."

The travellers meeting the Misses Robbins in Lausanne, Switzerland, was another intimate touch of this splendid recital, which also included a journey into the North of Ireland to visit a niece of Mrs. Bailey.

The afternoon closed with the serving of tea in the dining room. Mrs. Charles A. Hardy presiding over the tea table. Many took this opportunity to express their appreciation to Mrs. Bailey for the delightful journey she had conducted them over only a brief outline of which has been reported here.

EASTERN STAR INSTALLATION AN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Robbins Memorial Town Hall was well filled Tuesday evening for the public installation of the recently elected and appointed officers of the Longfellow Chapter, O. E. S. The ceremony was a beautiful one, simple yet impressive. Especially effective it was when, after her installation, Worthy Matron Eola M. Downs was led to the East by the installing Marshall Margery B. Chisholm, and the officers grouped about her in the shape of a heart, each holding aloft a red rose while the soloist, George E. Lynch, sang "In the Heart of a Rose."

The installing officers were: Grand Conductress, Mabel F. White of Pittsfield; Associate Grand Patron, Fred P. Kinney of Jamaica Plain; Marshal, Margery B. Chisholm, P. W. G. M. of Everett; Chaplain, Daisy M. Hatch, P. M. of Everett; Organist, Leila Blake, P. M. of Bedford. Unfortunately, illness prevented the attendance of Jean Wood Lynch, the second soloist.

Besides the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Downs, the officers who were installed were: Worthy Patron, Cecil B. Cowdrey; Associate Matron, Jessie A. Simmons; Secretary, Nellie C. Wadleigh, P. M.; Treasurer, Hazel M. Kimball; Conductress, Gladys H. Drisko; Asso. Conductress, Estelle M. Platin; Chaplain, Mrs. Eva M. Douglas; Marshal, Mrs. Bertha M. Cowdrey; Organist, Miss E. Lillian Evans; Adah, Mrs. Ida M. Wolmer; Ruth, Mrs. Margaret P. Yeaton; Esther, Mrs. Ethel F. Kinney; Martha, Miss Edith C. Olson; Electa, Miss Helen L. Dunk; Warder, Mrs. Reina P. Hanson, and Sentinel, Charles A. Murray.

At the close of the ceremony the installing officers gave brief talks and many gifts were presented both to the incoming and outgoing officers. Dancing followed. The reception committee consisted of Edgar T. Downs, P. P.; Ida C. Hunt, P. M.; Mattie F. McDonald, P. M.; Ruth M. Perham, P. M.

Before the installation there was a caterer's supper in the vestry of the Universalist church, which was attended by one hundred and thirty.

The tables were attractively set with bouquets of sweet peas for decoration and favors at each place. A feature of this portion of the evening was the presentation of various gifts. The officers of 1928 presented gifts to the retiring Worthy Matron, Mrs. Lottie M. Cameron, and to the retiring Worthy Patron, Norman A. Downs, and the officers of 1929 gave a gift to the Worthy Matron, elect, Mrs. Downs.

Civics Division should be supported. The exact text of the motion follows: At the regular monthly meeting of the Arlington, Mass. Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday evening, January 8, 1929, be it resolved:

Whereas, the present quarters of the Arlington sub-postal station are inadequate for the proper handling and distribution of mail in the said Town of Arlington, Mass. As proof of this, it is our understanding that the parcel post mail for Arlington is all delivered from West Medford. Moreover, a 9 a. m. "Mafn Line" collection (boxes located on Massachusetts Ave., Pleasant Street, Broadway, Mystic and Medford streets in Arlington) is also handled through the West Medford post-office. A similar evening collection is handled through the Back Bay postal station in Boston, causing unnecessary delay in delivery of local mail in Arlington.

Whereas, the lobby of the present Arlington sub-postal station is not large enough to accommodate the patrons at all times, especially those patrons who rent boxes which are poorly arranged. Moreover, it appears that the Clerks in the Financial Section of the Arlington sub-postal station are crowded and the cases where the mail is received are not sufficient to handle the large bulk of mail received.

Whereas, the Carriers' quarters are rapidly becoming inadequate and the Town of Arlington expects efficient service with its constant growth, it would be advisable to add more space at once and provide additional room for the handling of the Parcel Post and dispatching of all mail.

Whereas, the necessary space can be obtained at once next door to the present Arlington sub-postal station due to the removal of the Arlington Gas Light Company from 689 Massachusetts Ave. to new quarters which the latter concern has leased at 299 Broadway it is imperative that immediate action be taken by the postal authorities in view of increasing the present quarters of the Arlington sub-postal station.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Arlington, Mass. Chamber of Commerce in meeting assembled, that this set of resolutions, signed by its President and Board of Directors, be forwarded to the Postmaster at Boston, Mass., a copy of the same forwarded to the Congressmen from this District, Hon. Frederick W. Dallinger, and a copy of the same be spread upon the records of the Chamber.

The next report was from the chairman of the Sub-committee, Mr. W. A. McNeal, who made a strong plea to protect the lives of the boys and girls venturing on the thin ice of the skating surfaces in Arlington. He felt that such a work might well be taken up by the Chamber of Commerce. It was stated that the reservoir at the Heights was provided with a life preserver, a rope and a boat, but when the matter of police protection was suggested to the Chief of Police, he stated that no man was available for such supervision.

The following motion, presented by Mr. McNeal, was unanimously carried after several of the members had spoken on the subject: "That the Arlington Chamber of Commerce believe that proper action should be taken by the Hon. Board of Selectmen to safeguard the lives of our children and others who visit the various ponds during the skating season."

Clearance Sale

The president then called upon Mr. Robert H. Patterson, chairman of the Commercial Division, who supplied a comprehensive report, referring particularly to the mid-winter clearance sale, to take place from January 26 to February 2, and to be introduced with extensive advertising, employing a small four-page advertising sheet to be distributed to every home in Arlington and the contiguous sections of the adjoining towns.

He referred to the interesting meeting held by the commercial division on last Thursday night, January 3, when it was decided to engage the course given by the State Department, through the University Extension, on the subject of "Merchandising." This course is open to any citizen of Arlington at a cost of from $2.00 to $4.00. A full account of the same will be found in another column.

A credit bureau is under contemplation, to be supported entirely by those to be served by this information, but he could report nothing definite as yet.

Historical Sketch

The meeting closed with an address by Ex-Mayor Hastings of Malden, who at the present time is managing secretary of the Malden Chamber of Commerce. His address covered the history of Chamber of Commerce. He elaborated upon the record of the New York State Chamber. This most interesting Chamber with annual dues of $100 each, operates on the town meeting plan. Membership is limited to 2000, and there is always a large waiting list. It should be the object of every Chamber of Commerce to realize that the old saying: "Let the Buyer Look Out for Himself", is completely outgrown, and good business dictates that both the buyer and seller should profit. A merchant's best advertisement is a satisfied customer. The slogan of the Malden Chamber of Commerce is to promote in every possible way the civic, economic and social welfare of the city. Its progress is measured by the improvement of the community. It serves to build up the population of the town, acts as a clearing house for the exchange of ideas, supports constructive legislation, and assists as a general information bureau.

DR. CHARLES GOTT SPEAKS BEFORE WOMAN'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the Arlington Woman's Club, held Thursday, January 3rd, in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, was of special interest from the fact that the program of the afternoon was what might be termed home talent, for while Dr. Charles Gott, the lecturer engaged, is now a resident elsewhere, he is a son of Arlington, born and educated in our schools, and the music was by the Arlington High Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Grace Gordon Pierce.

Previous to these attractions, there was a talk by Mrs. Cyrus E. Dallin, who explained the Repertory movement, telling of the benefits derived in other countries from having a theatre where worth-while plays may be seen for a nominal price. She made a plea to support the Repertory Theatre of Boston.

The secretary announced a bridge and cake sale under the auspices of the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association, to be held in Ye Lantern. A deficit in the treasury has made it necessary to appeal to the public by this means.

The president, Miss Edith Winn, turned the program over to the chairman of the afternoon, Mrs. Dallin, who introduced Dr. Gott, now head of the English department at Tufts College. Dr. Gott's family has been identified with the town for a long period of years. His father was Charles Gott, Chief of Arlington Fire Department, and for many years a successful business man in the town. Hollis M. Gott, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, is a brother, while his other family connection in Arlington is Mrs. W. K. Cook, of Addison street.

Before beginning his lecture, which was on "The Women of Ibsen's Plays", Dr. Gott spoke of the pleasure it gave him to appear before the club members in this, his native town, even, as he said, it was with some fear and trepidation. This, however, was only a ploy, for Dr. Gott immediately assumed a conversational attitude, devoid of all stilted mannerisms and affectations, and for an hour interested and instructed his audience on some of the more familiar women characters created by Ibsen in his plays.

He spoke of him as a man ahead of his age. As having been given the power to see thirty years beyond the average vision. "That he was misunderstood was largely due to ignorance of his purpose; of his philosophy and of the terms by which the principals of modern philosophy are characterized."

Dr. Gott read portions of several of Ibsen's plays, including "A Doll House", "Ghosts", "The Wild Duck", "Römskholm", "Hedda Gabler", and "Pillars of Society". His longest reading was from "A Doll House", probably the most famous and widely read of his work, which was finished.

ARLINGTON PEOPLE ATTEND LEXINGTON TOWN MEETING

There were several Arlington people noted at the town meeting held in Lexington Monday evening. The main business for the meeting was to hear the report of a committee sent out to investigate the needs of the Fire Department of Lexington. After nine months work on the part of the committee, the matter is referred to the Appropriations Committee for their investigation.

"SCOUTS OWN" PROVES INSPIRING SERVICE

The "Scouts Own", which was held Sunday afternoon in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, proved to be a most inspiring service. In spite of the stormy weather there was a fair attendance which included not only the scouts themselves, but many of their friends as well as officers and scouts from Lexington, Winchester, Medford and Bedford. Mrs. Harold Yeames, the Arlington commissioner, greeted the scouts and their guests, after which the regular opening exercises of the organization were held, followed by the singing of "America the Beautiful".

Mrs. Yeames introduced Mrs. Dorothy Dean Sheldon, who, she explained, was director of the Metropolitan District at the time the Arlington Scouts were first established, and was most helpful in the work of organization. Mrs. Sheldon gave an inspiring talk on "The Light on the Horizon"—the light to which all Girl Scouts look forward and which, perhaps, they sometimes forget in their preoccupation with work for promotion and merit badges. She stressed the importance of the first part of their promise, to do their "Duty to God". This, she said, means that a Girl Scout is more faithful and more loyal to her religion, whatever that may be. If she is a Jew, she is more faithful to the Hebrew religion; if a Catholic, to the Catholic religion, and in the same way to any of the Protestant denominations. The Girl Scouts are non-sectarian, not non-religious. Another point emphasized was that in scouting there are no class distinctions. A girl stands for what she is and not for what she has. In concluding this talk, to which the girls, even the smallest of them, had listened intently, she urged the scouts to rise above all pettiness.

After the singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic", members of Troop Six, which is made up of older girls, most of whom are junior officers, conducted the very lovely candlelight service. Helen Bennett, standing on a pedestal and holding a large candle, represented the Spirit of Scouting. Three girls—Bernice Hayes, Martha Barr and Ruberta Bailey—representing the three parts of the scout promise, lighted their candles from hers. They were followed by ten other girls who, as they lighted their candles, explained each scout law. The effectiveness of the ceremony was increased by the chant which was sung at intervals. The services closed with the singing of the Girl Scout Hymn, followed by Taps, sung by the girls and played by Bernadine Brooks.

The Girls' conference, which will be held at Milton, January 11th, 12th and 13th. The Girl Scouts will represent Arlington at this conference. We are sure they will make us proud of them and bring back to our organization a new inspiration and enthusiasm. The representatives are: Troop One, Margaret Robinson; Troop Two, June Jorie McCann; Troop Three, June Tenney; Troop Four, Dorothy Weinheimer; Troop Five, Elizabeth Low; Troop Six, Pauline Bennett; Troop Seven, Marion DeNoyer.

ORGAN RECITAL AT ORTHODOX CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Mr. Leonard W. Buell, Organist and Choir Director of the Orthodox Congregational Church, announces a series of free organ recitals to be given Saturday afternoons, January 19, February 16, and March 16, at 4:30 o'clock. Members and friends of the church are invited to drop in when they can and leave when they must. The programs will be varied, lasting about an hour, and Mr. Buell hopes to have assisting artists at each recital.

The program for Saturday, January 19, at 4:30 is as follows: Impromptu, Dunham; Offertoire, Filby; Funeral Marche, Tchaikovsky; Intermission; Overture to "Poet and Peasant", Suppe; Largo from New World Symphony, Dvorak; Fiat Lux, Dubois.

Why Should Mail For Arlington Go To Boston?

January 4, 1929

Editor, Advocate: It may be all right for Arlington to be punished because it is in the Boston Postal District and cannot get a decent Post Office Building, but there is no good reason why a letter mailed just outside the Post Office, addressed to the Menotomy Trust Company or the Arlington Co-operative Bank, after 6 p. m., should be carried into Boston and brought out again to our local Post Office.

It would be a simple matter to have a slot cut in the building so that letters for Arlington need not go to Boston.

Is there anyone who can say why this simple little thing has not been done? It would save time and labor handling Arlington mail.

Perhaps our Chamber of Commerce, through its Committee, might move the powers that be to keep Arlington mail in Arlington.

OVER ONE THOUSAND MEN ATTEND UNION SERVICE

In spite of the unpleasant weather, there were over 1000 men in attendance at the union meeting of the Holy Name Societies of St. Agnes church, St. James church of the Heights, St. Brigid's of Lexington, and St. Raphael's of West Medford, held in St. Agnes church Sunday afternoon.

St. Brigid's society was accompanied by the prefect, Rev. Bennett O'Brien; St. Raphael's by its prefect, Rev. James Lynch; St. James' by the pastor, Rev. Dr. M. J. O'Connor, and the prefect, Rev. James P. Sherry; and St. Agnes, in charge of Rev. Joseph P. Murphy, its prefect. The service opened with the singing of the hymn "Come Holy Ghost" and recitation of the rosary, followed by a sermon on the significance of the day, by Rev. John Stinson, S. J., of Boston College.

Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament followed, with Rev. Dr. O'Connor, celebrant; Rev. James Lynch, deacon; Rev. Bennett O'Brien, sub-deacon; and Rev. Donald F. Simpson of St. Agnes' master of ceremonies. "The Hymn to the Holy Name", "O Salutaris", "Tantum Ergo" and "Holy God" were sung by the entire congregation.

Each organization occupied a reserved section, and each was well represented.

SEARCHLIGHT CLUB HEARS DR. CHARLES A. LINCOLN

The Searchlight Club held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, January 10th, at the home of Mrs. Arthur A. Lawson, at 13 Ravine street. The club was addressed by Dr. Edward A. Lincoln, of the faculty of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, who talked on the "Mental Testing Movement in Education".

Dr. Lincoln is a specialist in this field, and has had wide experience, both as a member of the psychological staff in the army, and as a tester of school children. He described and interpreted the ways in which teachers and psychologists are using mental tests in the schools to aid in the improvement of education.

Miss Mary E. Lewis has returned to Montclair, N. J., where she is a valued teacher at the Baldwin School of that city.

GAS COMPANY SETTLED IN ATTRACTIVE NEW HOME

The new home of the Arlington Gas Light Company at 299 Broadway, presented a most attractive appearance on the occasion of its "opening" Monday afternoon. Everyone had been busy moving over the week-end, with the result that both showroom and offices presented a completely "settled" appearance. In the showroom there is so large a floor space that though several appliances are on display and the new desks have been set in place, there is no evidence of crowding. New ranges, the Glenwood that promises to revolutionize cooking, are shown in a variety of colors, that increases the pleasing impression of the room. Baskets of flowers of varying colors, with pink predominating, and ferns, add their beauty. Among those who sent such tokens of congratulation are the Glenwood Range Co., the Welch Water Heater Co., the Walker & Pratt Co., the Eastern Service Co., all of Boston, and the George M. Clark Co., of New York, and the R. W. Shattuck Company, of Arlington.

The room opening from the street level is the one with which customers will be familiar. It is finished with wainscoting of dull finished Philippine mahogany, which beautifully grained wood also forms the counter where the bills will be paid, and extends part way up the columns that support the roof. The walls are finished with a smooth cream and the floor is of tile, made especially to deaden sound, in squares of black and tan with an occasional one of red for variety. Windows, so wide that they fill nearly all of the wall space at the front and on the uptown side, assure plenty of light. The small office for the cashier, as well as the space directly behind the counter, is connected with the upper floor and with the basement by a dumb waiter. The company has decided that never again shall its customers have to climb stairs. If there is any question to be answered about bills it can be sent up the dumbwaiter to the floor above, and the answer can come back in the same way.

The office of the manager, Mr. Robert Patterson, is at the rear of the first floor, and is separated from the cashier's office by the office of his secretary. This, like the rest of the first floor, is newly furnished with mahogany desk, table and chairs to harmonize with the woodwork. Along the sides of the main room are placed the apparatus on display. These are connected so that prospective purchasers may see them at work. Of special interest in this display are the gas refrigerator and one of the new gas ranges. A room for setting up apparatus is back of the display room. The central portion of the second floor is the main office. Of special interest here is the ceiling of acoustex, which deadens sound, while the floor is covered with

GRACE CURRY'S CLASSES HOLD HOLIDAY PARTIES

The annual holiday parties of Grace D. Curry's Classes were held on Friday and Saturday, December 28 and 29, at Odd Fellows Hall. The Junior High party, which was from 2 to 4, was matronized by Mrs. James W. Kidder and Mrs. W. M. Salter. There were sixty present. Novelty dances and an elimination waltz were features. Favors, lollipops and ice cream rounded up the good time. The younger class was entertained at their party from 4 to a quarter of six. Mrs. Albert Wunderly, Mrs. Harold B. Richmond and Mrs. Joseph W. Downs were the matrons. A similar program as that for the Junior High group was carried out.

The High School class met on Saturday evening from 8 to 11, with a group of eighty-five present. Mrs. Charles Hall and Mrs. Floyd Davis were the matrons. Mrs. Curry presented all her matrons with bouquets of variegated sweet peas.

The ushers for the younger classes were Teddy Lacey, Alan Chamberlin, John Anderson, Lawrence Consens, Junior High group, Norton Kidder, Frederick Parker, Edward Kline, and Forrest Bezanon. High School group, Fessenden Toole, Theodore Brown, Willard, Wallace, Edward Turner.

CALVARY M. E. YOUNG PEOPLE GIVE "IN THE HEART OF A BOY"

The young people of Calvary M. E. church delighted an audience which filled the church with the Christmas play, "In the Heart of a Boy", on Sunday, December 30th. The scene, set with trees and a campfire, was laid at the side of a road leading into Bethlehem. Here a group of boys in the long shirts and turbans of the period, were engaged in a stone-lifting contest. Soon the talk turns to the birth of a Babe in Bethlehem, which everyone is discussing.

The boys who took part were Bradley Carle, Jack Libby, Winslow Bancroft, Samuel Lowery and Elden Moses. Caroline Moses was the Radiant Angel, and other angels were Elaine Norwood, Winifred Stevens, Marion Crampton, Helen Bradford, Doris Hartwell and Dorothy Robinson. Mrs. Norcross Hartwell, Mrs. R. F. Frost and Mrs. Ralph Kinney were in charge of the play.

GIRLS' FRIENDLY GIVES PAGEANT AT ST. JOHN'S

St. John's Episcopal church was filled on Sunday afternoon, December 30th, when the members of the Girls' Friendly gave the Christmas pageant, "The Promise of Peace". The part of "Mary" was taken by Edna Hayes; "Joseph", Marguerite Ellard; "Angel of the Star", Carolyn Hall; three "Angels", Margery Gardner, Margery Rimbick and Eleanor Rowsell; three "Shepherds", Margaret MacElroy, Elizabeth Warner and Mona Gorham; three "Kings", Ruth Kennedy, Helen King and Jean Hallon. The music incidental to the pageant was rendered by the choir, accompanied by the organist, Mr. Aiken; Miss Helen Lyndon, who directed the production, was assisted in making up by her mother, Mrs. W. H. Lyndon. The Oriental costumes of the characters, and the greens, which decorated the church, added to the effect of this series of beautiful pictures.

Woman's Club

"The New Appreciation of the Bible" by Dr. Richard Burton, is the subject of the next meeting of the Woman's Club, on January 17th. Dr. Burton is a Johns Hopkins man, and the highest authority in the United States on the Drama.

Mr. Elford Caughey, a harpist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, will present a choice recital group. This meeting, under the auspices of the Civics-Education Committee, is open to the waiting list.

ARLINGTON MINISTERS TO EXCHANGE PULPITS

Next Sunday, January 13th, will be Exchange Sunday in nine of the Protestant churches of Arlington. For the morning service each minister of each of these nine churches will occupy another pulpit than his own. This plan of setting aside one Sunday at this season of the year, when the ministers of the various churches thus exchange pulpits, was inaugurated last year. The success and value of this initial attempt was so gratifying, that the Ministers' Association unanimously voted to repeat the plan again this year. The assignments of the ministers and churches involved, are as follows:

Trinity Baptist Church—Rev. E. A. Morris.
Calvary Methodist Church—Rev. G. D. Feagan.
Orthodox Congregational Church—Rev. C. T. Allen.
First Unitarian Church—Rev. A. G. Lyon.
First Universalist Church—Rev. R. J. Davis.
First Baptist Church—Rev. J. L. Hanks.
Park Avenue Congregational Church—Rev. R. R. Hadley.
First Methodist Church—Rev. J. E. Norcross.
Heights Baptist Church—Rev. John N. Mark.

KINDERGARTEN PUPILS MAY ENTER SCHOOL FEBRUARY 1st

At a recent meeting of the School Committee, the regulation regarding entrance to the beginning classes was revised to make possible the registration of children in the kindergarten on February first each year for those who fulfill the entering age requirement of five years old before January first of the current school year. Heretofore, children have been allowed to enter beginning classes only during September.

MANY ONE-FAMILY HOUSES BUILT DURING PAST YEAR

In 1928 there were 808 building permits issued from the office of Inspector Gratto. The total value of these permits is $3,504,245. In 1927, when 752 permits were given, the value was $3,770,620—fifty-six fewer permits and a valuation $266,375. The reason for this lessened valuation in spite of the increased number of permits illustrates, according to Mr. Mossman, clerk of the department, a noteworthy trend in Arlington building.

In 1928 there were granted 334 permits for one-family residences, valued at $2,032,865 and ninety-two for two-family residences, valued at $822,700. In 1927 the one-family residences numbered 245, with a value of $1,460,100, and the two-family, 169, value, $1,497,100. This, said Mr. Mossman, is because the builders realize that one-family houses sell better than two-family. While many of the one-family houses are built in sections limited by the zoning law to single residences, others are being put up in the two-family sections. In 1927 more single family houses went up in proportion to two-family than in 1926. If this proportionate increase of one-family houses continues, Arlington is well on the way to becoming a community of home loving citizens instead, as was feared when the zoning law was formed, a town with a large number of "floating" residents.

The year has seen the opening up of new sections and the erection of houses on many previously opened with scattering vacant lots now filled with houses. The development of the Winn Farm, in the Mystic section, started during the year, and this is now about half built up. Nearly all of the Rawson farm, comprising the section between Broadway, Franklin, Medford and Warren, has been built up during the year. Morning-side development has been continued on land at the end of Fal-mouth road. A newly opened district in the eastern section of the town is the Wyman farm, next to the recently developed Allen farm, where also operations have continued during the year. The Hill farm on Pleasant street was opened under the name of "Jason Heights" and work is going on there. Bowen street, running from Massachusetts avenue to Gray street, is pretty nearly filled, as is also Dennett road. At the Heights, building has continued on Summer street and many stray lots, including some in the Brattle street and Robbins road section have had houses erected on them. The Park Ave. Congregational Parish House has been a notable addition to the Heights made during the year.

Improvements by the town have included the new Highland Fire Station, valued at $55,000, the addition to Junior High School West, $125,000; water shop, $14,000, and athletic shelter, $2,500.

During the year the trend of business at the Centre has been down toward, and even below, Medford street. One of the noteworthy business buildings put up was that which will be occupied by the Arlington Gas Light Company as offices and show room at 299 Broadway, opposite the Central Fire Station. The Woolworth Five and Ten Cent Store, moved from the Post Office block into its new building where the store of R. W. Shattuck & Company was formerly located. Another store to move further down street was the Hutchinson Market, in the remodelled Finance Building.

The summary of the building for the year is as follows:—dwellings, one-family, 334, $2,032,865; dwellings, two-family, 92, $822,700; garages, 259, $131,755; enlarge garage, 3, $1,500; ten-car garage and repair shop, 2, $23,000; fourteen-car garage, 1, $3,200; three-car garage, 5, $6,000; alter building into garage, 1, $75; garage and sun parlor, 1, $1,500; additions and alterations, 28, $26,325; addition to brick and block plant, 1, $2,500; alter one-family into two-family, 5, $9,500; addition to filling station, 1, $1,500; 4 stores, 2 offices, 2 apartments above, 1, $25,000; 3 stores, 2 offices, 2 apartments above, 1, $26,000; blocks of stores, 5, $63,000; alter two-stores into one, 1, $200; alter store, 1, $2,000; filling station, 2, $4,800; manufacturing building, 1, $1,000; fire station, 1, $55,000; water shop, 1, $14,000; parish house, 1, $35,000; addition to school, 1, $125,000; office and showroom, 1, $50,000; elevator, 1, $1,000; athletic shelter, 1, $2,500; move one-family to new foundation, 1, $7,500; storehouse, 1, $1,200; repair burnt building, 3, $2,500; sun parlor, 16, $10,675; sun parlor and alteration, 1, $1,000; addition to storehouse, 1, $6,000; piazza, 11, $1,875; piazza roof, 8, $1,500; dormer, 5, $2,025; shelter, 2, $1,100; storage shed, 1, $400; shed, 2, $600; summer house, 1, $250; fruit stand, 1, $150; hen-house, 1, $200; tool house, 1, $350.

The building for the month of December was as follows:—dwellings, one-family, 39, $225,500; two-family, 2, $13,500; garages, 11, $4,690; alter one-family into two, 1, $2,500; sun parlor, 2, $1,175; storage shed, 1, $400; piazza, 1, $150, making a total of 57 permits, with a valuation of $247,915. Sixty-three gas and fifty-two plumbing permits were issued.

BOYS USING RIFLE COME NEAR CAUSING SERIOUS RESULT

As the 4.31 p. m. train on the B. & M. R. R. reached Lake street last Friday, Lieut. Daniel M. Hooley was startled by a crash on the window, just back of where the lieutenant was seated. He looked out, to discover a boy on the bank with an air rifle. When the train arrived at the center, Lieut. Hooley secured driver Zwinck and Traffic Officer Toomey, and in their company, returned to the Lake street section, where they discovered two youths with air rifles. The boys claimed that they had only tried to hit the top of the car. Owing to their age, their names were not given out, but their cases were taken care of in the Juvenile Court.

Extracts From Journals Of Local Forty-Niners

[Compiled from the diary of Stephen P. Blake, by William E. Wood, for the files of The Arlington Historical Society.]

Indian Experiences, Customs, and Incidents.

April 14, 1850. "There are reports of the Indians being troublesome on the Yuba, stealing cattle and killing white men. Poor devils, they do not know enough to mind their own business, and let the white men alone. If they go on, they will call out a party of exterminators who will not leave the mountains while there is a live red-skin there. Great quantities of snow have fallen, in the mountains, this winter. In many places, where the whites were quartered in small parties, the Indians attacked them in their log cabins, trying to drive them out by burping. One small party was aroused, one night, by the crackling of burning wood, and on getting up, found that the savages had piled wood against the door and had set it on fire, hoping to drive out the inmates so that they could shoot them. Not so, that time, however, for the men crawled up the chimney, and punished the savages, after a sharp skirmish, killing several Indians, but losing one of their own number."

"A man, traveling along on horseback, overtook an Indian on foot. He hauled in, and traveled slowly along, keeping company with the savage, who was very civil, walking beside the horse. The man had a rifle hanging to the saddle-bow, and also had a 6-shooter, bowie knife, etc. The Indian walked along a half hour and seemed desirous of conversing with the man. Suddenly, he snatched the rifle from where it hung, cocked it, and, presenting it to the breast of the traveler, tried to pull it off, in vain. During this act, the traveler had drawn his pistol, and he shot three balls into the Indian before he fell. The secret of the rifle not going off was that it had a hair trigger which had to be set before the rifle was cocked, else it could not be pulled off."

"The Indians in the valley, here, are a different tribe. They fear the whites, and, consequently, are peaceable. They dare not even steal, and it is as natural for an Indian to steal as it is for their dogs to have fleas. They are, of all God's creatures, the laziest and most degraded of any human beings I ever saw. Hunger compels them to go in search of food, which, once in their hands, requires very little preparation before it is eatable. They do not compel their women to do all the work, as I have heard that the Eastern Indians do, but still, the women do a great part of it."

"I do not know that these valley Indians have any religion, other than everyone for himself. They have an idea that there is something after death, but those ideas I cannot learn. It is probable that they think that all Indians and all Mexicans will fare well after death, for next to themselves, they think most of the Mexicans. Why this is, I do not know, but I think it is because the Mexicans, here, are most like themselves. If living in mud houses, sleeping on the ground, roasting meat on the coals, baking bread in the ashes, killing fleas, and biting the lice in two with their teeth comes anything near to it, then I think I am right. The Mexicans who live in these parts are little, if any, better than savages."

"The Indians have some customs which would sound hard to the ears of our people. When a person dies, they burn the body, burning also all of the effects of the deceased, and oftentimes, much that belongs to others. They dance and howl around the funeral pile, and get so excited that they will pull off their own garments and cast them into the fire. They keep the fire well supplied with wood until everything is consumed. What they think and feel afterwards is known only by themselves, but there is no outward sign of mourning."

"If a mother dies, and leaves young children who need a mother's care, the children, one or more, as the case may be, are killed, so that their crying shall not disturb the others. Mr. Nicholas has known this to be done many times. As there were but very few whites here, until of late, and as there were many Indians, he did not dare attempt to stop such barbarity. But, some few years ago, he did cross the river and go to their little village beyond, after they had just burned the body of a woman, and he forbade their killing the child, telling them that it was wrong, and that he did not wish them to do it. They respected his feelings, and let the child live. He is here now, at this farm, and a perfect little savage he is! The same year in which he saved the little boy, they had killed five children, one of whom was 4 years old. Mr. Nicholas could not let such a practice continue, and was bound to stop it."

"The mountain Indians, who are enemies of the valley tribe, have much the same manners and customs. They, however, blacken their faces, with charcoal, for the space of two months, after the death of a relative."

May 15, 1850. "Almost every day brings news of some outrage committed by Indians, above here, in the mountains. The white men are too busy, mining and trading, to take much notice of them, and the Indians know better than to attack the lion in his den. Instead, they lie in wait for teams going to the upper diggings."

A horrid outrage was committed, a few days ago, which calls loudly for vengeance; and that the whites are determined to have. I am well aware that there are many who will say that it is wrong to take up arms and go out against them. I should like to know if there be any way to convert these savages without using powder and ball for the first dose.

If a Mission would do good, it would be well for the missionaries to come West before going East!"
